DISINTERESTED MEN TO BE INVESTIGATORS

Conference Tonight Will Determine Whether Plan Is Satisfactory to Growers

Clyde Bishop, representing the Associated Beet Growers of Southern California, has won out in his contention that a commission should be appointed to investigate the cost of producing beets regardless of the refiners' refusal to enter into the spirit of the commission or to abide by the decision of such a commission.

In a telegram received today from Judge Lamb at Washington, Bishop is advised that the commission will be appointed if the growers will go ahead and plant, as was agreed to at the conference in Washington. The commission, however, will not be composed of beet growers or representatives of the sugar factories. It will be composed of men of integrity in the community in which the investigation is made.

Whether or not such a commission will be agreeable to the beet growers will be determined at a conference in this city some time this evening between District Attorney Woolwine of Los Angeles, Ross Whitney of Van Nuys and Bishop, at the latter's office.

Lamb advises that such a committee would have no authority further than an agreement that the growers might be summoned and give testimony under oath as to the cost of production.

Lamb's Telegram
The following is the telegram received by Bishop today:

Washington, D. C.

Clyde Bishop, Santa Ana, Cal.

Your wire thirteen. You were absent from the first conference with sugar beet producers here, at which writer was requested to outline the commission plan adopted in settling the milk question. At that meeting the parties were fully advised of the nature of the milk commission, by the decision of which the parties would abide and power to create same rested under agreement of parties thereto. That we had no authority to set up a commission with power to compel producers and factories to appear under oath, but parties agreed to such commission and to testify under oath, we could then provide means whereby the testimony under oath could be taken. At that conference the beet producers stated that a commission so established by agreement of both parties and to abide by the result, would be satisfactory and the writer was authorized to consult factories for promotion of such agreement. The conference the evening of the twelfth advised you we had nothing definite from the factories. The question of appointing a commission if the factories would not agree to a joint commission, was discussed and the writer stated he was not authorized to proceed upon the happening of that contingency, and when you suggested that the producers agreed to a commission if factories didn't, the writer asked how such commission could determine controversy when the factories were not parties to the agreement creating it, and you made statements substantially covered in our wire of the twelfth. The writer stated that if the factories would not agree to a joint commission he would recommend the appointment of a commission under agreement with producers, because you stated that on the appointment of a commission of that character the beet producers would proceed with plantings. At the conference on the twenty-first I advised you we would appoint a commission at the instance of producers of the factories did not agree to a commission such as was appointed in the milk investigations, but that I was endeavoring to secure such a commission and that certain factories indicated their acquiescence in that plan. Ever since I have endeavored to secure the adoption of that plan and the names I requested of producers were for use in event the commission was created by agreement of both sides.

Some of the factories were willing

Dispatches Declare Report

ing to Stir Up Hatred

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 15.—Formal denial that Germany intends to treat American prisoners of war "in a more severe manner than any other prisoners," was received here in Berlin dispatches today.

The German general staff asserted that the United States "seemed to derive its information from irresponsible sources who are seeking to stir up hatred."

THOUSANDS OUT

Steel Plants Close Because of Lack of Fuel Caused By Severe Storms

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Scores of industries turning out food, and munitions for the government here resumed operations today, after a shutdown of varying periods through the lack of fuel material, it was announced.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Steel mills in the Calumet region and other big plants working on government munitions contracts were shut down today through lack of material. Thousands of employees were shoveling snow in an effort to permit the railroads to bring in the necessary supplies, while the city and adjacent country was still emerging from a winning fight with the heaviest snowfall in a generation, and another storm was threatening to strike today. Southern Illinois and Indiana reported more than a foot and a half of snow early today and indications were that the storm would strike Chicago within a few hours.

The big packing plants at the Union Stock Yards, which closed yesterday afternoon because of the fuel shortage, expected to resume full operation today. Thousands of employees worked at clearing railroad tracks in the yards of snow.

25,000 in Gary Affected

In Gary, Indiana, 25,000 employees of steel mills and munition plants were affected by the shutdown. The Illinois Steel company, employing more than 8,000 men, has been idle since Saturday. The Inland Steel company at Indiana harbor released its 3,700 employees to shovel snow. The Western Steel Car and Foundry company dismissed 3,500 employees until coal could be obtained. The Wisconsin Steel company's plant has been closed since January 1st.

Railroad traffic through the middle west, except in the southern portion, where the new storm is raging, was practically normal today.

DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY
SHOOTS BEAR IN MOUTH

PASADENA, Jan. 14.—A story of a desperate fight with a great bear which he, being armed only with a small caliber gun, had to shoot in the mouth to kill, is the latest exploit of "Death Valley Scotty," who was famous a number of years ago when he turned up in Los Angeles giving hundred-dollar tips to bellboys and chartering a special train for a record-breaking trip across the continent. He was in Pasadena for a few hours today renewing his acquaintance with several old friends and said that he had packed out of Death Valley with mules and that he expected to be in Los Angeles for several days.

WALNUT SHELLS NOW
ARE BRINGING MONEY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Now comes the English walnut industry of Southern California with its "bit" towards winning the war. Walnut shells, pulverized, are now being used instead of corn meal which is also needed to win the war—to pack dynamite and other high explosives. As the shells bring $10 a ton, the walnut men now have another source of income.

It has often been said that Chicago meat packers extract everything from the butchered hog but the squeal. If this be true, the California Walnut Growers' Association goes them one better, for it lately perfected arrangements to reclaim 500 tons of cull walnuts yearly, and now it is going to sell the shells to boot.

CONSERVATION
PART OF PLAN.

Bills Suggested Give Hoover
Power to Make Meatless,
Wheatless Days Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Administration bills empowering Herbert Hoover to enforce wheatless and meatless days and stipulate war bread, if necessary, have been introduced.

As drawn by Senator Pomerene and Representative Lever at the suggestion and with the aid of Food Administrator Hoover, the measures provide: Authority to compel observation of meatless and wheatless days; license hotels and restaurants; control milling concerns to increase the flour output; power to enforce substitution of greater quantities of rice, flour and cornmeal for wheat flour; authority to compel use of locally manufactured products with a view to eliminating cross hauling—and other measures necessary for greater food regulation.

Fight Expected
While the administration declares the new steps are vital to successfully feeding the allies and prosecuting the war, there will be a violent, though probably not prolonged fight against enactment of the legislation in both houses. The old cry of government usurpation of power is expected and Senator Reed, original anti-Hooverite, has stated he will have "something to say on the legislation."

The Senate Commerce Committee today will hear William Bennam, one of those prominent in the recent Goethals-Denham shipping board dispute. Denham wants to deny all blame for delaying the shipbuilding program.

Probably Change R. R. Bill
In both houses the railroad bill is still in committee. It seems likely that either committee will amend the bill as the railroads desire—to make 1917 the basis for computing payments to the roads instead of the past three years.

The Senate votes late today on the Smith bill, putting production and distribution of print paper under government control.

Meanwhile the Senate is preparing for another peace movement. Many senators are writing speeches and preparing resolutions.

These resolutions will express America's sympathy for Ireland, Greece, Poland, Lithuania, Russia, Serbia and any other countries that occur to members of the Senate.

Dr. Burns J. Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee of this place, advises his parents in a letter received yesterday that he has been ordered to France, where he will be identified with the Eighth Field Hospital Corps. VATICAN IS GIVEN

PEACE QUERY

Indications Are "Feelers"
Sent to Austria, Germany
Received Unfavorably

BY JOHN H. HEARLEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Jan. 15.—According to reliable Vatican information today, Papal nuncios to Austria and Germany have informed Pope Benedict that there is no encouragement for peace hopes at the present time.

The Pope, it was asserted, will suspend judgment on the peace situation until governmental pronouncements are received.

Presumably the nuncios reported on the peace "feelers" which United Press dispatches of a few days ago reported as having been tentatively put out by the Vatican. At that time it was reported the Pope had called attention of Emperor Karl of Austria to the American outline of peace aims as likely to afford possible basis of peace discussion and had suggested that the Austro-Hungarian monarch take up the matter with the Kaiser.

He declared the report showed the Germans did not surprise the British commander-in-chief who "had taken all necessary precautions and steps."

TEUTONS HURL SHELLS INTO BRITISH PORT OF YARMOUTH

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Yarmouth was bombarded from the sea during the night, Lord French, director of home defense, reported today.

Twenty shells were hurled into the port. Three were killed and ten injured.

The damage was not serious, French declared.

The bombardment continued for five minutes.

The official statement does not specify whether the guns with which the seaport was bombarded were those of a German cruiser or a submarine, but the latter appears most likely.

Believe Discussion Is Again
Deadlocked As Slavs Refuse to Give In

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 15.—The Russo-German peace negotiations are apparently deadlocked again today, according to dispatches received from Brest-Litovsk via Berlin. The German delegates still insist on the central powers retaining their grip on occupied territory in Russia.

Following General Hoffman's categorical refusal for the central powers to evacuate Lithuania, Estonia and Riga for technical administrative reasons, the entire peace sitting adjourned. The date for possible resumption was not fixed.

Warm Discussion
The discussions on Friday were close to acrimonious. Russian Foreign Minister Trotsky refused to admit as part of the peace agreement the statement, "Resolved, we will hereafter live in peace and friendship."

The Germans declared that complete evacuation by their troops could only follow the Russian demobilization having been effected. The changes in the Russian governmental system the Russians might suddenly assume the offensive.

In addition, German Foreign Minister Kuhlmann declared that the question of evacuation applied only to regions of Russia which are still a part of the states actually negotiating at Brest-Litovsk, carrying out the previous German stand as to Courland, Estonia, Livonia and Poland.

Later in the proceedings Foreign Minister Trotsky demanded to know why there were no representatives of the people present and suggested they be invited. Czernin and Kuhlmann postponed discussion of the invitation until later.

Federal Agents Have Been on Trail of Sporemann For Many Months Past

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The trail of a beautiful woman believed to be the chief accomplice of Walter Sporemann, alleged German spy lieutenant, now under arrest, led government agents through fields of social and military life in the East today. Of nine persons now held for examination as possible accomplices, it is known wealthy citizens of Baltimore and other points are involved.

Sporemann himself, under federal guard at Richmond, Va., refused to divulge any information about his "friends," preferring to die rather than involve others, he said. He will be sent to Baltimore later for examination.

Government agents, under the navy and justice departments, have already followed for weeks the footsteps of alleged intriguing leading up to Sporemann's arrest after an attempt. It is charged, to fire a magazine at the army aviation field near Norfolk.

With Asch's arrest, nine persons, one a woman, are understood to be held by government authorities, suspected of being Sporemann's accomplices.

Federal agents have under surveillance a Baltimore music teacher, whose arrest is expected today. In their possession are photographs of this woman taken with Walter Sporemann.

Frederick, brother of the man arrested in Norfolk, was taken from police headquarters to the United States marshal's office today.

New Name to List
Today another name was added to the growing list of those swept into the net of the intelligence officers when Marius Asch was arrested at Baltimore.

Just what part the woman played in Sporemann's activities was kept a secret by the government today. The little information allowed to leak indicated that the government detectives originally learned of his alleged spying as a result of his association with the woman. It was recalled that former Ambassador Von Bernstorff was known to have many women friends upon whom he depended for valuable information.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 15.—America's spy-hunting machinery was working at full speed today in the chase after accomplices of Walter Sporemann, believed to be the leader in one of Germany's most spectacular plots against this country.

The arrest of Marius Asch by Department of Justice agents today threw new light on the activities of Sporemann. A box of letters and another box of bottles containing chemicals were found in Asch's rooms.

Sporemann was in charge of a naval intelligence officer. The search for his companions is on in Washington, New York and other eastern cities.

Sporemann, arrested at Norfolk, Va., will face hearing here. The preliminary charge against him is only that of being a dangerous enemy alien, but from evidence at hand it is likely he will be charged with spying and if convicted will doubtless be shot.

Long on Trail
The alleged Teuton agent, who was caught trying to fire an army magazine within the important naval zone at Hampton Roads, had been trailed long by intelligence men and Justice Department agents. They followed him at social affairs and in his journeys to Camp Meade, Md., and other military points.

Though he wore the uniform of the United States army, the men dogging him penetrated the disguise and never letting him out of their sight, finally trailed him to the magazine near Newport News, where it is claimed he tried to blow it up.

A beautiful woman is said to have been his undoing, though officials here are reticent to reveal what part she played in his detention.

Documents found on Sporemann when arrested indicated that he had an alliance with the notorious "Boy-Ed," German attaché, that he was well supplied with the Kaiser's funds and that

LOANS FOR HOME CONSTRUCTION INCREASED LAST YEAR

Home Mutual Building and Loan Shows Loan Increase Over 1917

That the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association of Santa Ana is recognized by home builders of this vicinity as one of the best mediums for securing a home in easy payments is demonstrated by the fact that the organization during 1917 showed an increase in loans for home building over the previous year, and above the average for a series of five or six years. The total loans amounted to $117,289.35, practically all of which went into the construction of new homes for members. The increase is shown despite the fact that building operations in 1917 were slow. Since organization twenty-five years ago, the institution has helped build 660 new homes.

Loans in effect on the first of the year aggregated $489,667.51. Assets of the association are $520,776.76.

The annual meeting of stockholders was held last night at the office of the association on West Fourth street, at which the report of Secretary Robbins was submitted, showing features of the year's work as given above.

The first change in the directorate in many years coming through the resignation of a director, was made last night when Geo. Kryhl was elected to succeed his father, C. P. Kryhl, who resigned. The latter has been identified with the building and loan for over thirty years, having been a member and director of the first association organized in the city, and which the present institution succeeded twenty-five years ago. The new member has been an ardent booster and one of the largest stockholders for many years.

The board, as elected last night, consists of Frank Ey, Ed Waite, P. G. Beissel, Frank Vegely, J. D. Parsons, George Kryhl and Horace Fine. In the reorganization of the board, Frank Ey was re-elected president, J. D. Parsons, vice-president; Harry Hanson, treasurer, and the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank, depository.

President Ey appointed Frank Vegely, Ed Waite and George Kryhl on the appraisal committee, and Horace Fine, P. G. Beissel and J. D. Parsons on the finance committee.

O. M. Robbins, who has served the association so efficiently for many years, was re-elected to the position.

The auditing committee of stockholders filed a report complimenting the secretary on the neat and efficient manner in which the books are kept, and pronouncing the records correct.

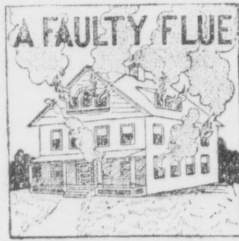

EASTERN BANKER HERE MAY ESTABLISH HOME

W. M. Condon, wife and daughter, Nora of Humphrey, Neb., are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, old friends. The visitors arrived here this morning, coming into Southern California direct from the snow and cold of their home town.

They will spend the winter here and may decide to locate permanently, as their trip here is with a view to establishing a home.

Mr. Condon is president of the Otis & Murphy Bank at Humphrey, and is one of the live, active men of that city. Dr. Paul is an enthusiastic booster for Santa Ana and after he has shown his friends the beauties of this immediate vicinity and impressed upon them the character of the community it is safe to say that when they select a city for their future home it will be Santa Ana.

Dr. Paul and wife drove to Pomona yesterday afternoon to meet the Condon family, who came to the coast by the Salt Lake. The train was due there at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, but did not arrive until about 6 o'clock this morning. The party came direct to Santa Ana after the arrival of the train.

There are five Americans in "The Bird of Paradise," which will be offering at the Opera House tomorrow night. W. B. Aeko, William Anau, J. Kalni, Sam Kala and M. Matkal, who have been doing their bit in the "states" for America and the Allies.

The names mentioned above sound strange—have an alien suggestion. Nevertheless Aeko and his associates are proud of their American allegiance, for they are Hawaiians—natives of Uncle Sam's outpost in the Pacific. These Hawaiians in their spare time while not appearing on the stage have promoted a number of Red Cross benefits and have collected a considerable sum of money in this way.

The boys claim that better than most of us on this side of the Pacific they get the thrill when they see the Stars and Stripes flying from the truck of a ship in the harbors of their native isles. They know what the navy means and that's why they enjoy the prospect of singing their folk songs and strumming their weirdly plaintive instruments at the benefits.

It is quite likely that these clever Hawaiians while here with "The Bird of Paradise," will stage a few novel entertainments to assist workers in obtaining donations. This will be done under the direction of Ben M. Giroux, the company manager.

'TAP' INVENTOR DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Developed Equipment Used By Irrigators Wherever Irrigation Is Done

With the passing of Daniel McRae in Los Angeles recently at the age of 80 years, life ceased for a man who as the inventor of irrigation equipment that had been a boon to irrigators—the tapoon.

McRae was employed by and made his home with W. W. Halesworth in this city in the early days, and while engaged in various farming work, including irrigating, developed the large tapoons used at first only in ditches for turning water from the ditch into large square blocks. Later the smaller tapoon came into general use, and is still used in the modern irrigation methods.

J. D. Bethune, an attorney of this city at the time, and later registrar of the land office at Los Angeles and Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona under appointments by Cleveland, attempted to get a patent for McRae on the tapoon. The patent department declared that it could not be patented, and McRae, therefore, reaped no financial benefit from his invention.

McRae died penniless, although he at one time was wealthy, having made a fortune after leaving this city.

He also was employed here for two years by City Recorder Heathman, who at the time owned forty acres of valuable land on West Santa Clara avenue, and which was planted to grapes.

STRIKE EDISON MEN WOULD NOT AFFECT LOCAL LINEMEN

Business Agents In Los Angeles Announce Trouble Is Imminent

According to reported statements of business agents of the union of electrical workers in Los Angeles, yesterday, a strike of workers employed by the Edison company is threatened in eight cities. Santa Ana is mentioned as one of the cities in which the workers will walk out if certain demands are not met.

There is no union of Edison men in this city, and so far as could be learned this morning only one member of the force employed here is connected with the Los Angeles union.

Wages of the company vary according to the years of service and qualifications, the wage here being about $4 per day for first-class linemen. There is no particular dissatisfaction over wages or hours among the men here, it is said.

A Los Angeles paper this morning carries the following story on the situation:

A strike of the Southern California Edison company electrical workers in eight cities is imminent, according to Harry Warner and J. Morgenthaler, business agents of the electrical workers' local union. They made the announcement yesterday following a conference with W. A. Breckenridge, vice president and general manager of the Edison company, in which they claim Breckenridge said he would prefer to deal directly with his employees instead of with the union.

Among the cities which would be affected by a strike are Fresno, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles. In each of these cities a special meeting of electrical workers has been called for Friday night, say the business agents, for the purpose of deciding finally on a walkout should the company not accede to the demands of the union for recognition and a wage advance of 20 to 25 per cent.

Warner said yesterday: "We have been negotiating with the company for three months to give us a raise that will bring the salaries up to that paid by the other California power companies."

"We also ask that the union be recognized and the men be dealt with collectively regarding wage terms. We regret that several contingents and a number of shipyards will be seriously hampered in the event of a strike."

Breckenridge said he had been visited by the labor agents, but was not satisfied with any arrangement whereby the company had to deal with the workers collectively.

Mr. Breckenridge said:

"We pay good wages and take care of our employees when they are ill. We do not want to be compelled to pay as much to poor workers as we do to the best workers, and I think they are all thoroughly satisfied. If they are not, they can come direct to us with their grievances and will receive every attention."

BIG CHAMP JESS WILLARD MUST TALK BUSINESS

Offer From Fred Fulton's Manager Makes It Up to Heavyweight to Move

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Today it was put squarely up to Jess Willard either to talk turkey or quit the roost.

With an offer of $75,000 from Promoter Bill Wellman of New York in his hands, it is Jess' move, either to consent to a match with Fred Fulton, foremost challenger, or invent some brand new alibi. If Jess can do the latter he is entitled to some credit, but the fact of the matter is Bill Wellman's offer is about the thing to force the big champion into a match.

Wellman wants to stage his bout over the 45-round route in either Reno or Carson City, Nevada. The sum of the offer will be paid forthwith into the hands of Jack Johnson's conqueror if he accepts. Nothing has been said about remuneration for Perocious Fred, but indications are he will be taken care of, for Wellman has made something of a reputation in New York in the way of spending money for things he wants. The main drawback to the whole affair is that Wellman wants Fred to go a little slower in his self-appointed task of effacing all the promising heavyweights. Of course, if some bloke should come along and bust Fred's streak of luck it would be tough sledding for Wellman's mill, and that, after all, is the big thing.

MUST HAVE IN DETAIL PLANS OF THE HARBOR

Commission Report Is Referred Back—Barnard Offers to Serve at $300

Upon the decision of District Attorney L. A. West that complete plans and details of the proposed improvement of Newport harbor must be made before the bonds are voted upon, the report of the County Harbor Commission was today referred back to the commission by the Board of Supervisors.

It seems that under the usual procedure in engineering matters of this kind, detailed plans are not made until after bonds are voted. Under the law, which it is proposed to call for $500,000 bonds for this county, the detailed plans must be made in advance of the election.

Since this is so, the harbor commission has negotiated with W. K. Barnard, engineer, partner of Capt. C. T. Leeds, who made the preliminary engineering investigation and who is now in the U. S. army, has submitted a written offer of his services to prepare the detailed report.

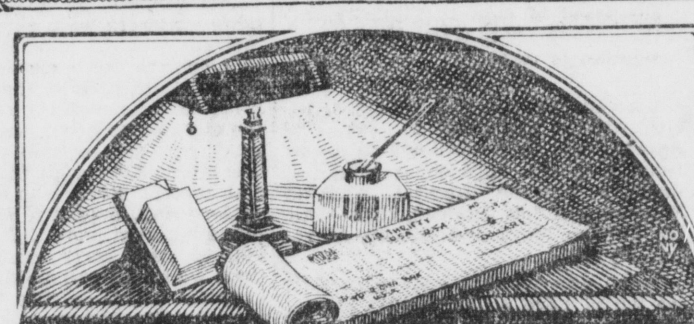

He offers to become the harbor engineer for $300 per month, his employment to commence with January 1st. Barnard to have a minimum employment of two years if the bonds carry and four months if they do not carry, he to be employed over fifteen days a month, $20 a day to be paid per day if he is employed over fifteen days in any month, he to have complete charge of the detailing of plans and of supervision of the engineering work while the harbor is being built.

Supervisor Finley said he would like to have a little time to consider the offer, as it was on different terms that Finley had understood was the terms.

J. A. Armitage, of the harbor commission, said that the commission will meet tomorrow. He said the commission would like to have authority to go ahead with Barnard's offer. Upon the investigation of Supervisors Struck and Leck, it was decided to take no action upon Barnard's offer until next Tuesday at 9 a. m., at which time a meeting with the harbor commission will be held.

EFFICIENCY is the Ability to do the Right Thing Right, With no Loss of Time or Motion

It begins with the proper and systematic handling of one's home finances, and ends with success.

The budgeting of current expenses efficiently minimizes living costs. It makes the bills for groceries, gas, light water, insurance, clothing education, rent, etc., easy to meet by calling upon each pay envelope to stand its share.

The first step in this plan of efficiency is a checking account with this bank. We will do your bookkeeping free of charge and render you a statement of receipts and expenditures whenever you ask for it.

Ask us to explain the Budget Plan to you.

"Big N" Mash

"Big N" Mash is a new feed in Santa Ana—but has already demonstrated its worth. It is manufactured exclusively by us, of the very best ingredients known to scientific feeding. Its use cannot help produce the best of results—because it is carefully compounded from only the highest quality grain and meat products. Where "BIG N" Mash is fed along with "BIG N" Balanced Ration Grain Food, a some green feed is given—then the problem of economical eggs solved. If your hens are raised from egg producing strains and well housed—then "BIG N" Feeds will positively make them produce a sack of each today.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS APPOINT MORRIS HORTICULTURAL COMMISSIONER FOR COUNTY

Hearing to Be Held to Lay Basis of Distribution of Fines

WEST ARGUES FOR A LARGER COURTROOM

Fire Trails Built In Mountains to Be Inspected By Committee

This afternoon Earl L. Morris of 812 East First street, was appointed horticultural commissioner of Orange county for the next four years.

Morris succeeds Roy K. Bishop, who has held the position for the last eight years.

The newly appointed commissioner is the son of Theo. Morris, corner of Seventeenth and Grand. He was raised in Santa Ana, went to school here, graduated from Stanford University, was a field agent for the University of California and recently resigned as horticultural commissioner of Santa Clara county after ten years service in that position. He resigned so that he could come here to be near his father, who is getting along in years.

This morning representatives of citrus associations from all over the county were present at the meeting of the supervisors. The question of the selection of a horticultural commissioner has been a topic of much interest among the fruit associations, farm centers and many individuals for several weeks past.

This morning County Clerk Edwards read the applications of four men, all of whom were reported by the State Board of Horticulture, as qualified for the appointment. These four are: Delacourt Kell of Claremont, E. L. Morris of Santa Ana, E.
H. Paddock of Orange, and R. K.
Bishop, present commissioner.

It took the clerk the best part of an hour to read all of the documents, petitions and protests filed in connection with the matter.

Morris was called before the board by some of the fruit growers. Bishop stated that he and Morris were old friends, and that he knew positively that Morris was thoroughly qualified to fill the position. This straightforward statement from Bishop brought applause, coming as it did from an applicant for the appointment.

Withhold Construction
District Attorney L. A. West read to the Board of Supervisors a letter from the State Council of Defense in which county councils of defense are asked to use influence with counties, cities and private individuals to do away with enterprises for construction work that is not of a military na-

WEAK, THIN PEOPLE MADE STRONG AND FAT

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks;
thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear. Eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. Weak, tired people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves, sleep returns to the sleepless, confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom, dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks.

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh. It is sold in this city by Rowley Drug Co.
and all good druggists.

ture or military usefulness, as such work would take men who might otherwise be employed in enterprises that help the nation in carrying on war. The county has several jobs under way but has no new work in prospect. The district attorney urged that in ordering material, the county keep in mind the fact that transportation is uncertain, which factor should be recognized in the provisions of contracts.

To Fix Licenses
The district attorney was authorized to prepare an ordinance to fix the amount of license to be collected from stage lines operating in or through Orange County. The sums to be required of the stages will be fixed at the next meeting of the supervisors.

On Motor Fines
The district attorney said that the question of the distribution of sums collected by cities for motor vehicle law violations was vexatious, and the only thing that he could see to be done to clear the situation is to have a public hearing by which the population of the various cities of Orange County can be fixed. Money turned into the county treasury by city recorders for motor fines is to be distributed "according to population and equity." January 22 at 9:30 a. m. was set for an all-day investigation to fix population and root out the equity of the situation. Summons are to be issued to all recorders, clerks, board chairmen and marshals of the cities of this county to be present.

Work on Trails Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson of El Toro, who has had charge of the expenditure of $1,000 for the county in the building of fire trails in the Santa Ana mountains, reported the work done so far, and discussed with the board the advisability of appropriating $1,000 more to be used in carrying on the work. Stephenson asked that the work so far done be inspected, and a committee of the board is to be appointed to carry out the request.

Asks For Committee
District Attorney West urged that the board appoint a committee to make plans for enlarging the courtroom of Department No. 2, even if there is no money available this year for doing the work. He said that the courtroom "is not big enough in which to lick a cat." His idea is to have all preliminary work done so that the courtroom can be enlarged immediately after the opening of the fiscal year. The committee will probably be appointed this afternoon.

SPECIAL SERMON SUBJECTS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Evangelist to Talk During the Week on Subjects of Interest to Many

Dr. W. E. Biedervolf will resume his evangelistic work tonight following his day of rest yesterday. He has announced that he will speak on the subject of the dance tonight, dealing with it from the standpoint of the facts which he knows about it, and will not attempt to condemn everyone who dances, or has ever danced.

Throughout the week Dr. Biedervolf plans to preach a number of special sermons. Wednesday afternoon he will speak on Seventh Day Adventism.
Thursday afternoon a "knitting party" is planned for the tabernacle. Thursday night is patriotic and Red Cross night. At this time a special offering will be taken for the Red Cross work.
Next Sunday afternoon the evangelist will discuss Christian Science.

Dr. Biedervolf announced Sunday that he would take a special collection tonight for the Family Altar League. This organization, which has to do with the planting of a family altar in every home, is entirely supported by Dr. Biedervolf. He gives the proceeds of all of his lectures to this cause; the profit on all of his books and the profit from the sale of his song books, goes to the Family Altar League, and during his evangelistic campaigns he always takes one collection for this purpose.

DIVIDING UP THE LAND

One of the many steps being taken toward practical democracy has just been reported from Italy.

"The government has been granted full powers for the requisition and distribution among the people of all the available land for utilization in agricultural works. Tools and implements will be given, together with all the necessary fertilizer, to those to whom the land is assigned.

"Proper instruction will also be given in order to have the right kind of culture for the different kinds of land. The distribution is gratuitous, and all expenses will be paid for by the government till the land becomes profitable."

The change of political and economic policy this signifies is tremendous. The details are not clear, but it is evident that Italy is really dividing up all her agricultural land among her people, bringing under cultivation the idle portions and giving every family a chance to possess its own home and till its own plot of ground. A nation that has suffered from all the evils of landlordism for 2,000 years is being enabled, with government help, to get "back to the soil."

The land, presumably, will have to be paid for; but the payments will not begin until the occupants are deriving a proper income from their holdings, and the terms will be so easy as to cause no hardship.

The new farmers and gardeners are to start not as pioneers, left to sink or swim, but with everything in their favor—all necessary supplies provided and scientific agricultural instruction thrown in.

England has done something of the same sort, in dividing up big estates and extending cultivation, though apparently on nowhere near so big a scale as this. The Russian revolutionists have been dividing up the land among the peasants, but it is a crude process, very different from the scientific Italian program.

It may be that most of the nations in the world, before this war is over, will take drastic action of one form or another toward the same end. It is becoming more obvious every day that more food must be produced, and the common people must be given easier access to natural resources. The problem is not so pressing here as in Europe. Still, it is serious enough to engage the earnest attention of our own government. We may have a radical back-to-the-land movement of our own before we get through.

GOD IN THE TRENCHES

It has been remarked repeatedly during this war that the trenches, with all their discomfort, monotony and ugliness, have been nurseries of religion. In them the soldiers have found God. The revival of faith among the French people has attracted world-wide attention, and has astonished France herself. The effect has been no less marked on the British army.

"We went into the trenches," a British officer has said, "Christians by education but infidels in practice. And this is what the trenches have done for us—today we know that there is a God."

A similar experience may safely be foretold of the American army. It is one of the comforting compensations of war in general, and especially of a war like this, fought under such terrible conditions for so lofty an ideal, that it wipes out materialism and selfishness, refines men's hearts and brings to them anew the beauty and value of spiritual things.

THE VOICE OF MEDICINE

The American Medical Association, representing over 80,000 physicians and surgeons of the United States, at its recent annual convention, adopted resolutions that mark a very great advance in the opinions of leading doctors concerning alcohol:

"Whereas, we believe that the use of alcohol as a beverage is detrimental to the human economy; and

"Whereas, its use in therapeutics as a tonic, or a stimulant, or as a food, has no scientific basis; therefore, be it resolved, that the American Medical Association opposes the use of

America's War Aims

Speaking before a mass meeting at the Auditorium in Milwaukee Sunday night, Mr. Otto H. Kahn, of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York City, said:

America is not waging a war of vengeance or hatred, notwithstanding all the injuries and measureless provocations we have received. The divine lesson which two thousand years ago, on the mountain, was given to the people of the earth, still holds good as the only safe lodestar for the guidance of the world. We have lighted a fire to purify, not to burn at the stake.

If ever a nation entered a war after having maintained infinite forbearance in the face of grave menace and dangers and the most intolerable provocations, and from motives as pure and as high as the great blue dome of heaven, America is that nation. We seek no reward whatsoever of a material nature.

"We seek no 'place in the sun'—to use the German Chancellor's term—except the sun of liberty, and that, we do not seek selfishly, but to share with all the world.

America is incapable of hating an entire people, but we do hate, we are fighting and we shall fight with every ounce of our might, the spirit which has power over the people of Germany, and which, if it were to prevail—as, under God, it never will—would destroy liberty, justice and democracy.

It was not the people of Great Britain which America fought in the War of the Revolution, but the spirit and the ruling caste which then held sway over them. America fought then for an ideal and for liberty and independence, and sacrificed blood and treasure and suffered and endured and won. And so it will be now.

Doubly Good Business

That buying War Savings Stamps is good personal business in more ways than one is strikingly brought out by an editorial in Capper's Weekly.

"The German government being a financial pirate as well as a war-crazed autocracy," says Capper's Weekly editorially, "raised money for the war with imperial bond issues that mortgaged the future, instead of paying for the war as far as possible on the pay-as-you-go plan. And as a result Germany is today utterly ruined financially and commercially, as its war debt is so enormous it is impossible for the German people to pay the annual interest.

"America should not only make the war-savings stamp and thrift-stamp plan of financing our war burdens the great success it promises to be, but so overwhelming a success that the government will be called on to make few straight-out bond issues. The government redeems these stamps at post-offices, when the money is wanted, without the intercession of any financial institution, and the people save money they otherwise would spend.

"Many Liberty bonds, another form of popular loan, and non-taxable, must eventually get into the hands of persons or institutions of great wealth needing investments and not money. In their hands, every such bond becomes a tax upon the people with no corresponding benefit, as great wealth so invested pays nothing toward the maintenance of the government."

The New Man

By EMERSON HOUGH.

He stepped so silently into the room, though he looked into another day. "Who is he?" asked one man of the table that for the moment not all turned to look at him. He had not been invited, was not now announced. But he seemed assured of welcome. He seemed fit for welcome here. He was tall, hardy in figure and in face, with deep lines showing effort of body and of mind. His hair was not gray, but there was steel in it even now, though he yet was young.

His attitude was easy, simple, not assuming, carrying not the least trace of braggadocio, as he stood before this company where he had not been asked and took that place which to himself seemed fit for him.

His figure was that of a young man. His skin, smooth and hard-drawn, was that of a young man. But his eye, clear, deep, and bright, bespoke the man who had thought and who held himself competent to think.

His face, astonishingly high bred and lofty, attracted the attention of everyone at the great table. Men turned one to another, whispering—"He looks like my grandfather!" exclaimed one.

"I was about to say the same of my own," was the reply. They both had ceased to laugh and jest. It seemed to others that the eyes of the young man himself turned now and again to the pictures that hung upon the wall—pictures of men of another generation. But his own eyes passed on and beyond the wall, as though he looked into another day. "Who is he?" asked one man of the table that for the moment not all turned to look at him. He had not been invited, was not now announced. But he seemed assured of welcome. He seemed fit for welcome here. He was tall, hardy in figure and in face, with deep lines showing effort of body and of mind. His hair was not gray, but there was steel in it even now, though he yet was young.

Strangely men began to look into the great mirrors at each side of the banquet table. Yet more strangely the eyes of the young man also turned to them, somberly, questioningly, as though he saw himself.

He did not speak at first, had not been asked to speak. None the less seemed that, when finally he raised his hand to command attention, all were waiting for his voice. He raised his glass, empty. But, as though it had been full of some strong wine, something was giving his voice carry and clearness, his brain directness and composure.

"I have come from another country," said he, simply. "Once I lived at ease as you do. I played with life. I valued not the great things of life. I amused myself. I cared for the small things about me."

"I sought riches because some men called 'super-men' by their fellows had attained riches and were praised for them. I was concerned with the things material of life, the things perishable, that is to say, things having to do with luxury and ease. This made my horizon. I knew no better."

"Now, I come from a far country, my brothers, while yet it is very near. I am a new man, but I am old. I am

The meeting adjourned with a social half hour following.

Entertained at Anaheim

Mrs. Annie T. Ingram entertained the Emma Sanson Chapter, U. D. C., at the home of her son, G. T. Ingram, 128 West Chatter street, Anaheim, yesterday afternoon. About twenty attended from this city.

After the business meeting, Dr. H. W. Head and Judge O'Brien told war reminiscences and made special mention of Lee and Jackson, whose birthdays came this month.

This chapter is invited to celebrate with the Los Angeles chapter at Hugh K. Walker's church, Los Angeles, Saturday, January 19, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ingram and her daughter-in-law served a real southern supper, with chicken, hot biscuits, salad and coffee, ice cream and cake. The table was prettily decorated in red, white and blue with small favors and miniature aeroplanes hanging from the chandelier.

In the center of the table was a large mirror, simulating the sea, upon which floated war boats, with tiny Jack Tars upon their decks.

A cordial vote of thanks was given the hostesses before the guests departed.

Trip to Imperial Valley

Mrs. E. S. Heil, accompanied by her two daughters, Flora and Ethel, and son, Vernon, together with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harding, returned Sunday evening from a trip to Imperial Valley. The trip was made in their new 7-passenger Oldsmobile, and only once during the trip there did they have to shift into intermediate. The car was driven by Vernon Heil.

They found the weather beautiful in the valley and had a fine trip but were glad to be home again safely.

SIGMA PI SUPPER

Young People Enjoy Evening at Grubb Home and Dance at Hebard's

A delightful supper was given last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Mary Jo Grubb of Edgewood road by the Sigma Pi girls.

The sitting room was decorated with clusters of beautiful pink roses, and a glowing fire in the grate gave cheery welcome to the guests. Before supper was served, music was enjoyed.

On entering the dining room, where the table was set for twenty, a pretty scene was admired. The color scheme was pink, roses centering the table, and candles with pink shades assisted in carrying out the effect. The supper consisted of stewed steak, mashed potatoes, gravy, olives, hot biscuits, pie a la mode and coffee.

After supper the party went to Hebard's dance, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Those enjoying the evening were Misses Lorraine Roberts, Christine Watson, Marion Buckley, Luella Neff, Myrtle Law, Florence Neff, Gwendolyn Hoyle, Margaret Lyon, Mary Jo Grubb, Louise Grubb, Maurice Isch, Frank Sproull, William Johnson, Eugene Trago, Neal Rayner, Ross McPhee, Austin Obarr, Nelson Edgar, Eugene Eckley, Hillard Tyrell.

COLORED COMEDIANS
IN MINSTREL SHOW

The "Ten Dark Knights," a company of ten colored comedians, who can sing, dance and play various band instruments and who are presenting an old-fashioned minstrel show in two scenes, is the attraction at the Temple Theater tonight and tomorrow night, with a matinee on Wednesday.

This company has been on the vaudeville circuits for many seasons and each year they seem to please more and more. They have just finished one entire week's engagement at the Hippodrome Theater, Los Angeles, and by special arrangement with Manager Howe of the Temple-Theater-Hippodrome, they are playing Santa Ana before going to Denver.

This big program is being shown in conjunction with William Desmond in "The Sudden Gentleman," a five-reel feature picture, a one-reel latest Pathe News, direct from the Orpheum Theater, Los Angeles, and Link & Robinson, a Hippodrome Circuit vaudeville act, presenting a very laughable skit, "The Traffic Cop and the Lady."

HAD THE GRIP THREE WEEKS

With January comes lagrippe. Lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chilly, tired, heavy and drooping. Mrs. Lizzie Tynes, Henderson, Ky., writes, "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I had the doctor and bought medicine and none of it did any good. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right. I have told all my friends about it." Insist on the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. Rowley Drug Co.

A GOOD CONFERENCE

Executive Board and Presidents' Council Federated Clubs Meets at Fullerton

The regular meeting of the executive board and presidents' council of the southern district California Federation of Women's Clubs was held at the Christian church in this city last Saturday, starting at 10:30 in the morning.

Mrs. C. C. Arnold, of Riverside, the president, was present and presided. The morning session consisted of a board conference and was attended by practically all of the chairwomen.

At noon a luncheon was served by the ladies of the Christian church and forty-four sat at the tables and partook of the delicious repast, for which the ladies of the church have become almost famous.

The afternoon session, which convened at 2 o'clock, was in reality a conference on the vital questions of the hour.

Mrs. Frank Gibson, of Los Angeles, state chairman, presented the subject of "Americanization." She showed the vital necessity of Americanizing the alien population of the country.

Mrs. Henry E. DeNyse, district chairman of country life and member of the emergency service committee, spoke on the value of farm bureau and farm advisers. Among other things she urged that women be represented in the bureaus.

Mrs. U. S. Stewart, of Highlands, of the Parent-Teacher Association, spoke on the proposed farm school for Southern California in conjunction with the experiment station at Riverside. She said the state university people favor such a school, but have not promised that one will be established, or if decided upon that it would be started within a definite time. They say there should be one here, as the school at Davis with the different soil and climatic conditions, is not satisfactory for instructions to farmers of this part of the state. The need of a school is recognized in the South.

Mrs. John Bishop of San Bernardino, told of education as applied to the alien element which is now carried on in America.

Taken altogether this conference is considered one of the best ever held by the federation. That was the impression of all who attended and expressed themselves in relation to the meeting.

Brushes for every need, Mrs. Cheney.

LEGISLATIVE WORK

Women's Council in Los Angeles Outlines Plan Saturday for Coming Year

At the monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Women's Legislative Council, held at Brack Shops, Los Angeles, Saturday, January 12, with Mrs. A. E. Carter of Oakland, the president, presiding, plans for the year's work were presented and adopted, as follows:

The general work to be under the supervision of committees as named—publicity, membership, speakers, budget and finance, a chairman to be appointed for each, with a sub-chairman in each county in the state.

A campaign of education as to the object and purpose of the council will be carried on in the several counties making known the results of past efforts and presenting the work outlined for the future.

The membership committee will make concerted effort to increase the membership.

The purpose of the movement which resulted in forming the Women's Legislative Council was to co-ordinate all women's organizations in co-operative legislative work.

In years past women in the three leading organizations, viz.: Women's Christian Temperance Union, Federation of Women's Clubs and the Mothers' Congress, worked independently in the interest of welfare measures to have same enacted into laws of the state. Now these three, and some independent women's organizations, compose the membership of the Women's Legislative Council.

The policy of the council is to present only three bills at each session of the legislature.

Last year the bills were: Community Property, Women on Juries and the Pacific Colony or Home for Feeble-minded.

A general council meeting of officers and delegates will be held in April, perhaps in Los Angeles, at which time the text of proposed measures will be presented and discussed and referred back to the organizations belonging to a referendum vote. The three measures receiving the highest vote will be the ones framed and presented, as the council bills, at the next session of the legislature.

The basis for admission to the council is: Five dollars for an organization or group of organizations, which makes the president of same a delegate to conferences and council meetings, and two dollars additional for every 100 members.

The personnel of the council is entirely composed of women who have, for years, been active in public welfare work.

Mrs. A. E. Carter, the president, has served the Oakland Civic League as president and is prominent in other organizations. Mrs. Hester Griffith, vice-president, has, for many years, taken an active part in W. C. T. U. and other social welfare work in the south.

Mrs. M. E. Jenkins of Los Angeles, acting recording secretary for the southern section of the executive committee, is well known in W. C. T. U. and social settlement work in that city. Mrs. A. J. Lawton, treasurer, served the Southern District C. F. W. C. as president for two years, followed by a year's service as General Federation State Secretary, and is now chairman of legislation for this district.

Sisters In WorkBY GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—No one has paid much attention to what the negro "mammies" and educated black women of America are doing to help win the war, but they're doing their share just the same.

Paralleling the work of organizations of white women in the southern branches of the Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense, the colored women are keeping even; and in some instances a jump or two ahead of the procession.

"The colored women," said a member of the National Defense Council's Woman's Committee today, "are valuable members of the women's army of America."

"They too, have their men in the war, and are anxious and well able to do their part. They work under their own leaders and often have their own units. Tennessee is planning to organize the entire state in separate units and to encourage them to train for nursing."

"Colored teachers in Maryland are giving of the time they have usually taken for much needed rest to do volunteer work and the state chairman, including publicity, reports that too much praise cannot be given to their devotion and patriotism."

"In New Orleans a negro woman lectures to other women cooks of the community on the value of wheat substitutes, and they have classes in food conservation in the municipal kitchen."

"Florida finds the co-operation of the colored people particularly valuable."

but the great majority were not and made the counter proposal that the federal trade commission, which would have all authority to investigate, which authority could not be given the agreed commission except by agreement of the parties necessary to be bound by the finding in this particular instance. If the matter is submitted to the federal trade commission the manner and form of its action would be determined by the latter.

We could not appoint a commission that would compel appearance of growers under oath unless growers agreed, and would not appoint such commission under agreement of one party and put interested parties on either side of controversy and such commission.

If you desire the appointment of a commission to take the testimony of growers under oath as to the cost of the production of sugar beets and fair profit, it will have to be by agreement with the growers and the further agreement that it may have authority to call growers to examine them as to such costs and then determine a fair profit.

No one interested in the industry would be represented but I would select men of reputation and integrity in the community that the public might know that such tribunal would render a decision based on facts presented, uninfluenced by any interest on either side. Such a commission we propose to appoint and in addition to taking the testimony of growers, if any other interests desire to appear voluntarily, such testimony will be taken. Advise whether such commission will be satisfactory and if growers will proceed with plantings. If not, we seem to have gone as far in the suggestion as our powers will permit.

he worked with the aid of prominent persons, including one woman, Sporemann's brother Frederick was arrested here last night as an enemy alien and is said to have revealed important information about Walter, whom he disliked.

Story of Activities

As officials pieced together the remarkable tale surrounding Walter Sporemann's activities it runs like this:

Coming here from Bremen in 1910, he established a residence in this city. Before the war he apparently established relations with Boy-Ed, getting thousands of dollars from him to finance his German work.

When war with Germany broke out Sporemann gathered in several American army uniforms, which, with a German army suit, were found in his room here.

Circumstances Betray Him
But not until some weeks ago did his work attract particular attention. Then, it is claimed, his uniform and the woman with whom he associated formed a combination of circumstances which uncovered his real role. At that time he was evidently gathering data about Camp Meade and other military stations. Detectives trailed him constantly, finally tracing him to Newport News. There he readily found work at the aviation field, and it is claimed, made one unsuccessful attempt to blast the magazine. Sentries fired on him, but he returned the following day.

An officer making his way past several sentries spoke in German to Sporemann. He pretended not to understand. But when the officer mentioned a social affair which had occurred here, Sporemann immediately became friendly. The officer, pulling a gun, arrested him.

Officials at Norfolk quizzed him in the hope that they might ascertain something of the fire in the business section about two weeks ago, but Sporemann was silent. He is an intelligent man who speaks English without an accent, as well as several other languages.

Blew Out Gas and Died Before
Note Returned

When Columbus de Bruyn of Los Alamitos accidentally blew out the gas when he went to bed in Los Angeles several months ago he brought death to himself and caused a law suit in the superior court here.

Domien de Bruyn, a Belgian, administrator of his estate, found a note for $300, signed by Louis Goeman, and Domien brought suit to collect the note. This morning Judge Thomas heard the case. The evidence was that Goeman paid Columbus the $300 and interest, and that Columbus was going to return him the note the next day. The day the note was paid, Columbus went to Los Angeles, and that night he unthinkingly blew out the gas. At least that was the theory advanced by his friends, who could see no reason why he should have suicided.

Goeman produced Ben Rotliers as a witness, who saw the note paid. Judge Thomas gave judgment for the defendant.

Yesterday Judge Thomas gave judgment to A. R. Smith and Fred Grote of Orange against Dr. Gerald Farwell, a dentist. Farwell had a lease on an office in the Smith-Grote block, and the evidence was that he left the office and quit paying rent. Judgment of $325 was given for the rental for the unexpired portion of the lease.Kern on the Stand
This morning the cross-examination of F. B. Kern of Anaheim, who is suing City Marshal Kellenberger of the Mother Colony for $16,450 damages for alleged false arrest, was completed, and Robert Johnston, newspaperman, who saw the arrest, went on the stand. The evidence is along the same line as that produced at the two former trials of a jury failed to agree.Sanden in Jail Again
Harry Sanden, who recently went to Camp Lewis, and was rejected because of physical disqualifications, was arrested this morning by City Marshal Jernigan on a charge of vagrancy. He was taken into custody at 1502 Spurgeon street while he was waiting for a "hand-out." He called at the residence and asked for something to eat. He was told to wait, and City Marshal Jernigan was informed by phone and made the arrest. Jernigan found him sitting on the back steps waiting for something to eat.

Sanden was serving in the county jail at the time of the draft registration, having been committed from Anaheim for disturbing the peace. When he served his term he was sent to Camp Lewis. A questionnaire sent

ON COAST ROAD DEED EXPECTED SOON, WORK TO START THEN

James Irvine and Supervisor Leck Have Agreed Upon the Route

SLUICING OUT BAD SPOT IN CANYON ROAD

Several Highway Jobs Progressing Satisfactorily, Says McBride

James Irvine and Supervisor Leck have reached an agreement as to the route for the coast road from Newport Bay to Laguna Beach, and just as soon as the description for the right of way can be worked out by County Surveyor J. L. McBride, the deed to the county will be signed by Irvine.

The Board of Supervisors in the tax levy fixed last September included a levy for raising $30,000 for building the road. Work upon the road will probably be started within the next three or four weeks.

There will be about six miles of road to be built. A large portion of the road is across level mesa. However, there are several gulches to be encountered. At Nigger canyon a 30-foot fill will be found necessary at one point.

County Surveyor McBride says that a splendid dirt road can be built, and it is his expectation that it will be ready for travel within a few months. The present plans do not call for paving.

The route agreed upon by Irvine and Leck calls for the departure of the new road from the old Palisades road at a point this side of the Palisades. The road will go across a mesa, and will strike the Palisades property at a point about a quarter of a mile northeast of the hotel. From that point the road will proceed over mesas and Things baked with economical Cottolene are digestible and wholesome. For instance, pie crust made with Cottolene really is wholesome. Both top crust and bottom crust are flaky and flavorful.

Cottolene makes delicious cakes, too. Remember always: You use one-third less of Cottolene than of expensive butter or other shortenings. This is because Cottolene sets the highest possible standard for purity and richness.

RECIPE

Saucer Pies
1½ cups flour ½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup Cottolene Ice water
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Chop in chilled Cottolene with knife (reserving 1½ tablespoons). Add just enough ice water to form soft dough. Roll in thin sheet and spread with remaining Cottolene. Roll like jelly roll and chill. Then stand roll on end, press down with hand and roll again. Cut to fit small saucers and fill with desired filling. Finish with strips of pastry arranged lattice-work fashion.

gulches along the picturesque coast line to Laguna Beach.

County Surveyor McBride expects to have the data for the deed worked out within a few days.

Surfacing Through
Today the re-surfacing of the portion of the Buena Park road included in a contract let by the county recently to the L. A. Paving company was completed and was opened for travel. This is asphalt surfacing, known as the Topeka top.

This is but one of a number of highway construction jobs that the county has had going under the inspection of County Surveyor McBride.

Wells & Bressler, contractors, have just completed the paving of a strip at the west side of the Olive bridge, and today began hauling materials for paving at the east end. The job will be finished and the bridge open for travel in about a month.

Bridge Building
Work upon the Yorba bridge, a pile structure, has been progressing rapidly. The contractor, J. P. Hunter, of Los Angeles, expects to have the job completed in about three weeks. After that is done the county will require one or two weeks to make a fill at each end of the bridge, and the bridge will be open for travel. This bridge replaces one that was washed away in the flood of January, 1916.

The biggest job now under way in county road work is the paving of three miles of the Santa Ana canyon road between Sulphur Slide and the county line. Upon that job the road grade as established and worked out under the direction of the County Highway Commission is being used.

A protective measure now being carried out is the hydraulic of the old spring, a well-known point on this road. The soft earth on the steep mountainside has long been a menace to the road below. Efforts have been made to allow the moving earth to slide through a culvert beneath the road. That did not fill the bill. This time the spring is going to be located definitely at the point where it comes out of the rocks. The movable earth is being washed into the river, and when the spring is located the water will be piped so that it will never again be a menace to the permanent road below.

J. S. Miller, of Santa Monica, who has the contract for the paving, is hauling in his materials. Paving will start at this end.

Finley's Contracts
Steele Finley is at work upon two county contracts. According to County Surveyor McBride's plans, the Hot Springs road from the mission to the top of the hill has been put to a six per cent grade. This necessitated a six-foot cut at the top of the hill. Before grading, the hill in places was ten per cent. On this job Finley has the paving done around the mission. The contract is about two-thirds finished. Finley's contract does not call for surfacing. The job will be finished in about two weeks.

Finley is moving his outfit and has commenced grading on the 1600 foot of paving that he has to do at Laguna Beach.

"This war has ceased to be a fight and has become a great world religion; a Religion of Democracy, that we must be ready to die for, if need be, so that our children may live and be free.

"The American people will dedicate their lives and substance to these great ends, invoking the spirit of our fathers and the blessing of the God who never forsakes a righteous cause."

A PAGE OF PATRIOTISM FOR PACIFISTS

"Why Cry 'Peace! Peace!! When There Is No Peace?'"

"A Spiritual Warfare--- A War Against War"

By E. Guy Talbert, Secretary of the State Church Federation.

I had been an ardent pre-war pacifist. I was a member of a dozen peace societies and a diligent student of anti-war literature. I felt that war was monstrous, diabolical, inhuman. I was a Christian and war was contrary to every conception I had of Christianity. War was anti-Christ.

Then a call came to me to visit the military camps in the interest of religious work among the soldiers. Knowing that my soul was lost, but still a believer in humanity, I accepted the call. For weeks I visited the camps from coast to coast, talking to the soldiers, living with them day by day.

I found them full of a great passion—the passion of democracy. I found them earnest and anxious for a new world of brotherhood—a world free from shams and hate and strife. I found them religious, though their religion was not expressed, either in the terms of creed or of ceremony. They seemed to feel that they were going on a holy crusade to save the world.

Then one day I had a vision of war and its horrors and its suffering, and I saw as in a picture the world as lost as was my own soul. I saw the millions of soldiers in the camps and trenches engaged in wholesale slaughter. I saw the sufferings of the millions of mothers and dear ones at home. I visited the hospitals and saw the millions who suffered there.

Then I saw ravaged and desolated Belgium with her slaves! I saw famished Serbia with her disease swept plains; I saw Poland where millions had died as the contending armies surged back and forth over her snowy fields; I saw a million starving Armenians die by the desert roadside, lashed by the fiendish Turk.

Then as in a flash I saw the cause of it all and realized that the boys in khaki in the training camps had seen and understood.

This war and all war can never stop and humanity be free until that cause is removed. If Germany wins, militarism, force, war, will rule the world for a hundred generations. This, in the light of history, can never be denied nor its truth questioned.

It is not simply a war of force, of arms; it is a spiritual warfare—a war against war—a final effort to rid the world of mankind's worst enemy—war.

It was no use to "Cry peace, peace, when there is no peace." The soldier lads of the United States feel in their souls that they are fighting to save America and the world from this hell that now yawns before us—the hell of perpetual war and discord.

They are fighting to give the world back its soul—and lead it to God—not the God of a nation or a people, or a church, but the God who is the Father of all.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"Let there be no misunderstanding. Our present and immediate task is to win the war, and nothing shall turn us aside from it until it is accomplished. Every power and resource we possess, whether of men, or money, or of material, is being devoted, and will continue to be devoted to that purpose until it is achieved."

Are You Doing Everything in Your Power?

From "Put the War Through," by Theodore Roosevelt in Metropolitan Magazine.

No man or woman, no well-grown boy or girl, in the country ought now to feel contented unless he or she is doing everything in his or her power to help win this war. It is our war. It is the people's war; the war of the free peoples against the powers of autocracy and despotism. The man who does not do his utmost to help win it is false to his country and to mankind.

Something Imperishable Wrought by the Knitters

Editorial from the Riverside Enterprise.

In the old days of the guillotine the women of the Faubourg St. Antoine gathered in the shadow of that "humanitarian instrument of painless death" that a doctor had invented and marked with the click of their needles the fall of heads.

Today democracy also has its knitters, but the thoughts wrought into the completed fabric are far different from those that filled the inflamed brain of the revolutionary tricoteuse of '93. No Madame Lafarge now works her roster of the doomed into the slowly growing design, awaiting the grim tribunal whose watchword was death.

Yet there are thoughts and aspirations written invisibly by the needle points that will surely be read some day, and translated into action, not of death, but of life; not of revenge, but of reparation.

Millions of women are giving their time to the work and the mental and spiritual processes that it cannot but induce as affording an actual contact with the war and with the men in the camps and trenches; an intimate and personal touch which makes for unity of purpose and solidarity of power.

It takes the war into the home as an ever-present and all pervading fact, that must be mastered and turned to the ultimate good of the race by those who are its perpetuators and conservators.

One of the most foolish arguments advanced by the opponents of the suffrage resolution in the house last Thursday was that giving the vote to women would strengthen the hands of the pacifists and make for a patched-up and insecure peace leaving militarism power to recuperate and at some later time break out and again ravage the world.

So far is this from being the truth, that it might be shown from facts and figures that the women of the free peoples are today the most implacable and relentless enemies of Kaiserdom; that their intuition and prevision is the greatest possible check on any movement toward such a peace, and that no man or group of men in high places is strong enough and specious enough to go counter to convictions having their root in a biological instinct.

The knitters in the shadow of the knife on the Place of the Revolution wrought into their work a fiery and avid thirst for demolition and punishment, the first ferocious ebullition of wrongs and hatreds that had corroded the souls of women through a thousand years of wrong and oppression.

But democracy has traveled far since then. Not to punish, but to prevent, is its dominant motive today, and this thought is being worked into wool by millions of our women who think now to act later.

The sweaters and the trench caps and the socks will wear out quickly in the mud of Flanders and Northern France, and the great camps within our own boundaries.

But something imperishable has gone into them that will endure and enlarge as part and parcel of the blood-bought charter of the free peoples of the world.

A Creed That Will Make the Schools the Cradle of a Deathless Democracy

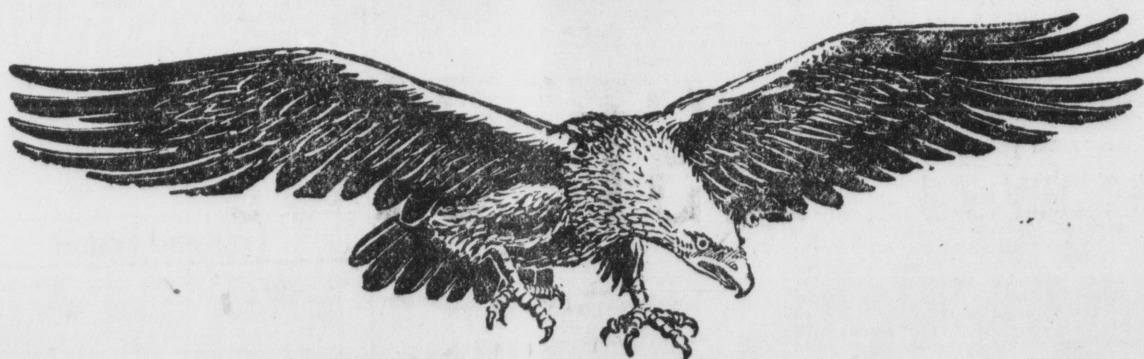

By Cleveland Moffatt

1. I teach my pupils that their duty is first, last and all the time, to be loyal to the President of the United States, loyal to the Allies of the United States, loyal to the military policy of the United States.

2. I teach my pupils that when Germany sank the Lusitania, she sank her right to be treated as a civilized nation.

3. I teach my pupils that there is one thing in the world worse than a Germany enemy and that is an American traitor, an American coward, an American slacker, an American pacifist. I teach them that treasonable utterances, spoken or written, are as dangerous to this Republic as armed attack and must be punished by law and by the force of outraged public opinion.

4. I teach my pupils that a premature peace would be a world disaster; that we are fighting a war for liberty against German tyranny, and that having drawn the sword in a just cause, we must never sheathe it until Germany has been conquered, punished and made pay for her crimes.

5. I teach my pupils that they must defend with all their strength our precious heritage of American liberty, and must be ready and glad to do their part in universal military training.

6. I teach my pupils that this war has ceased to be a fight and has become a great world religion, a religion of democracy, that we must be ready to die for, if need be,

I inculcate in my pupils faith that the American people will dedicate their lives and substance to these great ends, invoking the spirit of our father and the blessing of the God who never forsakes a righteous cause.
